More Double Sessions Seen For Our Local Grade Schools

WESTLAKE ASSN. MEMBERS HEAR OTHER PROBLEMS

Transportation, PTA Discussion Held Mon.

Possibility that more elementary school classes will go on double sessions was sounded Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Westlake Property Owners Association.

Superintendent of Schools H. Z. Weibel noted there are now three sessions of kindergarten classes without a home. He told the 300 Westlake residents attending the meeting that unless some facilities were found for the children it might be necessary to put additional classes on double sessions to provide room.

"However, we are doing everything in our power to prevent such action," Weibel said.

He pointed out that there would be some relief when the new Westlake School opens in November.

The necessity of double sessions was indicated by Weibel when he pointed out that the attendance at the elementary schools has almost tripled in 10 years, while facilities have failed to keep up with the population growth.

Weibel's speech was of general interest to all Daly City residents, but matters of specific interest to Westlake home owners were also reviewed at the meeting conducted by Association President Dr. George Gibson.

Following are the topics covered by the meeting:

Taxes

Where The Dollar Goes

The Record has received many requests and questions concerning the current tax rate for this area. Following is a breakdown and comparison of current city and county taxes:

Total County Tax 1951-52 per $100 Assessed Valuation	$5.41
Total City Tax 1951-52 per $100 Assessed Valuation	$1.29
Total Tax	$6.70
Total Tax 1951-52 per $100 Assessed Valuation for San Francisco	$6.15

Despite the lower tax rate for San Francisco local officials claim the actual amount of taxes paid by Daly City residents is less than in San Francisco. This is based on the contention that assessed valuations are higher in San Francisco.

For example, a home assessed at $3,000 in Daly City is assessed at, say, $5,000 in San Francisco. The difference in the assessed valuation would mean a higher tax in San Francisco, although the tax rate is actually lower than in Daly City.

Following is a break-down of city taxes:
General	$1.00
Employment Retirement	.145
Recreation Bonds	.15
Total	$1.295

Following is a break down of county taxes:
General	$1.88
Harbor District	.02
Library	.07
Elementary Schools	.93
Maintenance	.36
Bonds	.36
Total	$1.29

High School
Maintenance	1.25
Bonds	.26
Total	$1.51

S. M. Jr. College	.36
Sanitary District	.12
Colma Light District	.16

Grand Total $5.41

The city is now moving to eliminate the Colma Light District from the local tax bill, and by next year this should be 16c less residents will have to pay in taxes.

ASSISTANT D.A. NAMED TO FILL CLERK'S POST

Supervisors Make Choice 8 Hours After Augustus Dies

In a surprise move Wednesday evening, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors named John Bruning, 48, assistant district attorney, to the post of county clerk.

Bruning will fill the position left open by the death of William H. Augustus who died at 1:20 p.m. Wednesday of a heart attack at his San Mateo home.

A highly respected county official, Augustus has been county clerk since his appointment to the post in November, 1937. He was elected without opposition in 1938 and has subsequently been re-elected for each succeeding term.

The 72-year-old clerk has been ill periodically during recent months, but had been on the job regularly for the past several weeks. His death came as a surprise to everyone.

His successor will fill out a three year term. . . . Augustus was reelected last year.

Legal Knowledge
County Supervisors said they chose Bruning because a man with legal knowledge and practice was the desired candidate for the office of county clerk.

Bruning has been "No. 1" man to District Attorney Louis Dematteis since his appointment in January, 1949. Previously he had been connected with the OPA and was a veteran law enforcement officer.

Supervisors today said Bruning has not sought the post, but was asked to take the job.

Salary
As assistant district attorney Bruning received $7,850 a year. His new job will pay but $150 a year more.

A resident of San Mateo, Bruning is married, but has no children.

In addition to serving in the district attorney's office, Bruning has handled all the legal matters for the county schools and is a member of the county planning commission.

Meanwhile, memorial services will be observed at the Redwood City Court House today at noon for Augustus. Other funeral arrangements are pending.

Thief Steals Minor Items In Local Home

A watch, several old coins and various other small articles were the haul of the thief who entered the home of G. F. Barrett, 127 Flournoy street, last Wednesday.

In reporting the burglarizing of his residence to Daly City police, Barrett stated that the entry was made while he was at work.

Superintendent Reports

Many Problems Created By Elementary School Enrollment Increase Of 484

by H. Z. Weibel
Superintendent Jefferson Elementary Schools

(Ed Note: Following is a summary of conditions at the various elementary schools found when the children returned to classes last week.)

Reporting for classes on Tuesday, September 11, were 2,868 pupils in the Jefferson Elementary Schools. The enrollment is an increase of 484 since school closed in June and an increase of 444 since one year ago.

The added growth in enrollment presents many difficult problems to the school officials, particularly in housing and in the transportation department.

With the Westlake School scheduled to open in November and with other neighborhood schools scheduled to be built in the near future the Board of Education is confronted with an immediate need for more buses but with an ultimate need for only one or two units.

The parents of children residing within walking distance can help ease the situation by having their children walk to school or permitting the children who are old enough to ride bicycles. The problem is not entirely the responsibility of the school officials who are handicapped by insufficient funds and a shortage of school housing but is one which demands much cooperation from the parents.

More Children
Over 60 more kindergarten children were registered than the number for whom accommodations had been provided. This situation is receiving attention and as soon as possible will be remedied.

A brighter side of the picture is

Two More Arrested In Bookie Raid

Local Operations Hinted To Be Tied Up with National Crime Syndicates

With the arrest of two more suspected bookies in Daly City last week, "operation bookies" entered its second and possible final phase here.

Those charged with either operating bookie joints, or assisting in operations, will be up for trial within the next month. At that time it is expected additional information will be forthcoming on a two year bookie reign in Daly City, which at one time saw some 60 joints going full blast.

A spokesman for the district attorney's office hinted that the trials will bring out information which "should prove an eye-opener to those who believed Daly City to be a clean town." He added, there were indications that local operations were tied in with national crime syndicates.

First of the trials will open Monday when Nathan Martineau and his wife, Marian, will be charged with allegedly permitting their home at 27 Woodrow Street to be used as a bookie joint. They have pled innocent to the charge, and will be defended by Attorney John Fahey of the local firm of Fahey, Castagnetto and Gallen.

More Trials

Other trials or hearings set include:

1. Friday at 2 p.m. in Daly City police court Tony Titone, 36, will enter a plea of guilty or innocent for allegedly operating a bookie joint from the cigar store on "top of the Hill" at 6284 Mission Street. He will be represented by Fahey.

2. On October 8, Dany Capece, 35, and Alfred Lefler, 48, come up for trial in superior court on a charge of running a "clearing house" for bookies at a Citrus Street home. This trial is of special interest, as Capece is allegedly a member of the international crime syndicate, the Mafia.

Second Raid

Meanwhile, the two alleged bookies who were knocked over in the back of an apple straddle shop at 6157 Mission Street last Thursday afternoon will be up for a preliminary hearing in Daly City police court at 2 p.m. Friday.

They are: Aldo (Blinky) Ferraris, 32, of San Bruno, and Robert L. Magidson, of San Francisco. Both are charged with felony bookmaking.

The raid on the reported $2,000 a day "business" was led by A. L. Lampert of the district attorney's office and Acting Chief Roland Petrocchi. Sgt. Roy Beecher, who is being trained as a plainclothes investigator under the new police reorganization, also took part in the raid.

The operation was the second in which local police participated, and followed by a day the ultimatum of District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis to the city council "clean up Daly City."

Bail Set

Shortly after they were questioned, the two men were "sprung" by San Francisco gamblers who put up $5,000 cash bail for Ferraris and $2,500 bail for Magidson.

Lampert described "Blinky" as a "former big shot" who has been tied up with big men in the north San Mateo county and San Francisco.

COUNCIL MOVES TO CUT COUNTY TAX

Thanks to action by the Daly City council, taxpayers in a good part of the community will be saved about $4 on their 1952-53 county tax bill.

Mayor Paul Green announced the tax saving at the meeting of the Westlake Property Owners Association Monday evening.

The cut will come when the Colma Lighting District levy of 16 cents per $100 assessed valuation is dropped from local residents' tax bill.

The assessment was levied many

The Years Ahead

Plan New Firehouse, Library

Anticipating a steady growth of population in Daly City, and specifically in the district west of Junipero Serra Boulevard, plans are now being formulated for a fire house and branch library in the Westlake area.

The city council, it was learned today, has already selected a tentative site for a firehouse at the south east corner of the present Westlake shopping center.

A branch library is expected to be situated in the same general area.

Planning Stages

Both buildings are only in the planning stages, and it remains to have any specific plans drawn up.

However, it is expected the fire house will be large enough to serve as headquarters for the newly created full time fire department.

The library will serve as a branch for the local library, and probably will be a much smaller "edition" of the building on Mission Street.

No date has been set for construction of either of the structure, although officials indicated they would be built when the "population" warrants.

One Block

The stumbling block for any new building is the matter of financing. The council is already having difficulty, due to the increased cost of building materials, in completing the Community Center building. It is doubtful if any major construction would be undertaken until this recreation center is completed.

One possible financial out was heard at the meeting of the North County Councils held in Daly City last Thursday evening. Kenneth Smith, financial broker for the Public Works Corporation of Los Angeles, presented a plan whereby a city may raise funds for construction without first calling a costly bond issue election.

Briefly, the plan consists in the corporation erecting the building desired, and then leasing the building to the city. After a certain specified number of years the sum submitted for leasing would cisco gambling world. The district attorney's inspector added that "Blinky" was one of the accounts found in ledgers seized in the raid on the layoff bookie joint allegedly operated by Capece and Leffler from a Citrus Street home.

Bets Taken

At 2 o'clock Thursday the three officers entered the pastry shop where they found Magidson operating two phones in front of the shop while John Klements of San Francisco was making apple struddle in the back. Lamport said the German baker evidently did not know the nature of the operations in the front of the building.

Lamport took over one of the phones, and Magidson agreed to continue taking bets on the other instrument. For two hours the officer and the alleged bookie took bets amounting to more than $2,000.

Magidson told police that he was employed by "Blinky" and he received a salary of about $100 a week. "Blinky" was seized when he entered the shop at about 6 p.m. after returning with the race results from a local track. In Ferraris' late model car, which he had parked a block and half from the pastry shop, officers found an account book and ledger which listed the bets taken day by day.

Long Record

According to police records, Ferraris has a long record, which opened in 1937 when he was convicted for receiving stolen property.

He also has been named defendant in a $50,670 damage suit. According to the complaint, Ferraris was the driver of the Cadillac that struck and killed Dominic Guagliardi as he was crossing Mission Street near San Jose Avenue in Daly City December 8, 1950.

Police reported they had kept the joint under observation for several weeks, but Ferraris had been allegedly operating there only for a "short time."

Council Moves To Cut Tax

years ago to assure adequate street lighting for unincorporated sections of the north county. However, since then most of these areas... including Westlake, and sections south of Daly City... have been taken into the city limits. The job of providing lights is now a city matter, and not the responsibility of the county.

In reality, residents who have been paying this 16 cents have been paying for services never received.

Those affected by the tax will be asked to sign a petition (50% of the land owners must sign), and this in turn will be presented to the county board of supervisors for the appropriate action.

Mayor Green estimated the average saving to taxpayers from the cut will be about $4 a year.

Many Problems Are Created By Heavy Enrollment

Another needed improvement was the installation of more efficient and safe gas furnaces in the Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson Schools.

Weeds were cut on the Colma school grounds and dirt was hauled to fill some of the erosion on the Garden Village grounds.

Busses Repaired

The school busses were overhauled, all safety devices were checked for efficiency of operation, and flasher signals were installed to comply with the new state law. Bus drivers William Hunter and Bernard Klees, who are both highly safety conscious, have expressed great satisfaction with the improvements made on the busses.

In spite of some severe handicaps the Jefferson Elementary Schools have many features about which the citizens of the community can be justly proud. The schools belong to the people, are for the service of the people, and deserve the whole-hearted support of the entire community.

Excelsior District Festival To Mark "Reopening" Of Mission Street

Reopening of the Excelsior shopping district will be celebrated by a three-day festival beginning October 18, it was announced today.

The fete will mark the first time in over a year that the stretch of Mission Street through the Excelsior district has not been in a state of repair.

Mayor Elmer Robinson will begin the celebration by formally opening the Mission Street viaduct and the newly paved street which cuts through the heart of the Excelsior District. During the three days of festivities, local merchants will offer a series of sales and thousands of bargains in everything from suits to soap.

Highlight of the fete will be a parade Thursday evening, October 18 through the heart of the Excelsior district.

National Fire Prevention Week To Be Observed Here October 7-13

Observance of Fire Prevention Week will be held here October 7 to 13, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy announced today.

In making this announcement, Chief Kennedy pointed out various means of safeguarding local homes against fire:

"In order to safeguard ourselves and our property, certain information concerning fires is helpful. One of the most important pieces of advice that can be contributed is that in the event of fire one should 'TAKE TIME TO THINK.' Most lives are lost and most injuries occur at the time of fire because of the panic-crazed impetuosity of the people. However, it is just as important to know about fires and KNOW WHAT TO DO to prevent and control them.

"In combating fire, there are two fundamentals to be remembered.

"First, remove or block out the oxygen with sand or some other material that in itself will not unite with oxygen under the influence of heat from the fire.

"Second, lower the temperature at which this active combination of oxygen and material occurs, by the cooling the burning substances with water or some other suitable material.

"However, the proper firefighting philosophy is not, 'How can one best extinguish a fire?' But, 'What can be done to prevent its starting?'

"The most common causes of fire in Daly City are:

1. Defective wiring
2. Misuses of electricity (over loaded lines)
3. Careless use of matches and smoking
4. Overheating of defective chimneys and flues
5. Overheating or defective stoves and furnaces
6. Improper storage of combustible materials
7. Improper handling of petroleum and its products
8. Defective electrical appliances
9. Failure to remove hot iron from board when through

"Now that you know a few causes of fire in our own community please take a little time to check your home to see if you are safe from fire.

"Many people believe that they know what to do in case of fire, we of the fire department often wonder, because of the fact that most of the fire calls are DELAYED we believe and we know the people of the house have tried to extinguish the fire themselves rather than to go to the corner and sound the alarm, in most cases where the people of the house have tried to extinguish the flames themselves, the fire has gotten away from them and the damage is far greater.

"Know the location of your fire alarm box.

"In case of fire pull box and stand by for the fire department."

have the use of 1500 square feet in the building formerly occupied by Doelger Co. offices at 95 S. Mayfair.

There are five rooms for use in the building, including a locker room, kitchen, meeting hall which can seat 100 people, sports room and director's room.

The kitchen is equipped with a stove and refrigerator and utensils for 100 persons.

Those wishing to use the clubhouse for card parties, or meetings are asked to contact Bosbery.

The clubhouse is a temporary affair, to be used until such time as a much larger building is erected by the Doelger Co. at a later date.

Park

George Pingry, chairman of the Daly City Recreation Commission, noted that title to the land for the Westlake park has almost been cleared. The park site, located off the Alemany Extension, near the new Standard Station, will soon be improved by Daly City.

How much money the city can put into the new park this year has not been determined, Pingry said.

(As the city is now working on a tight budget to complete the parks program approved by a bond issue two years ago... which did not include the Westlake park... it is doubtful if much work will be done on the site this fiscal year.)

Architectural Committee

An effort to educate the residents of Westlake to the importance of "uniformity of exteriors" is the principal job of the architectural committee, Chairman Marty O'Conner told the audience.

"We wish to point out to people the necessity of obeying the by-laws so as to insure a beautiful tract," O'Conner said. "If we let the bars down, the value of the property in the area is sure to decrease."

President Gibson noted that the committee is now making a survey of willful violations of the by-laws governing such things as yards, painting, etc. He said the Association was trying to set up the "machinery" to prevent such violations.

Asked by a member of the audience whether the Association could enforce the by-laws, Gibson said that the "best legal minds" were of the opinion the laws could be enforced. He noted that when a resident bought a home he signed a contract in which he agreed to follow the rules laid down by the Association, and a violation of the by-laws was a violation of the contract.

Alemany Beautification
Answering complaints of many residents that the Alemany extension is cluttered with papers, bottles and waste material, President Gibson said action was being taken to remedy the situation.

Mayor Paul Green said that Daly City officials would meet with state highway officials this week to attempt to work out a plan whereby a joint means of beautifying the highway could be reached. He said the city plans to use state gas tax money, if the state will allow this, for the job.

When asked by a member of the audience if the city could supply necessary funds without the use of gas tax money for the job, Mayor Green answered "no."

(Previously the state rejected such use of gas tax money by the city. However, Mayor Green expressed confidence that this decision would be reversed.)

Westlake PTA
Introduced by Westlake Attorney Charles Becker, Mrs. Hugh Falconer reported on the progress of organizing a PTA for Westlake. At a meeting held Monday afternoon a by-laws and nominating committee were chosen to set up the organization for Westlake, Mrs. Falconer reported.

A meeting is to be held the evening of October 4 to elect officers and set the PTA organization in motion. (Watch The Record for further details.)

Transportation

President Gibson reported that the transportation problem was still a very real headache for Association officials. He noted that the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission was willing to extend bus service to Westlake, but only if it could be guaranteed that such service would pay.

"I doubt this would be the case, today," President Gibson said. "And we do not want to get a bus out here, only to lose it."

He asserted there did not appear to be enough need for such service at the present, and that present transportation, while not the best, was at least better than nothing.

A survey is to be made shortly to accurately determine how many people would use city bus service, and if the report is positive the PUC will be requested to put on such buses as necessary.

The meeting concluded with a report by Mayor Green on the present tax rate for Daly City. (This is covered elsewhere in The Record.)

pay for the structure, and the title would be turned over to the city. City officials are giving the plans serious consideration and have called for more details.

Local Drummer "Boy" Training Japanese Band

Drafted drummer man, Private George H. Gustafson, who has beat it out with some of America's top dance bands, is now a member of the Special Services Section at Camp Gifu.

A former member of the 1951 edition of the Louie Casanova and Dave Brubeck Combo, chosen by Metronome Magazine as the small

In 1945 Private Gustafson began his musical career with a small orchestra in San Francisco from which he graduated to such leading dance bands as those of Charlie Barnett, Alvino Rey and Jimmy Dorsey. His professional musical career was cut short by a draft notice from the Army in February of this year.

A SUGGESTED WAY OF SAVING TAX DOLLARS

A simple rebuttal to the national theme song: "Tax 'em till they scream, then tax 'em some more" was sounded this week by the city council.

In scanning the $5.41 county tax rate for the 1951-52 fiscal year, councilmen noted one item: Colma Lighting District 16 cents.

As Daly City residents should not be included with the Colma district, it appeared a bit odd that the county was milking local residents to the tune of about $4 a year for an item from which they reaped no benefit.

A fast trip to the county seat of government revealed means could be taken to save the taxpayers this small, but, nevertheless, important tax dollar.

We are happy to report the council has taken appropriate action, and next year the taxpayers will be saved the cost of supporting a district of no benefit to themselves. However, we are of the opinion that the council could have gone even farther. We speak of the 36 cents put aside out of the county taxes for support of San Mateo Junior College. This is done, we understand, to support local students who wish to attend the college.

As a matter of fact, Daly City is paying not only the tuition of local students, but of many from without the city. We believe, were a census taken, that only a few local residents are reaping the benefits of the college.

It would be cheaper for the city to cut this tax item, and subsidize the few students from this district who wish to attend the county college.

This is only a suggestion, but we believe it bears close scrutiny by the city council, especially as it might save local taxpayers from $8 to $10 more a year.

RESIDENTS NEED TO ORGANIZE FOR ACTION

A collective group can do much to better the community, but divided little is possible.

Such is the case of residents in the Hillside Boulevard District, better known as Edgewood. It has been some time now that they have requested signals, or other appropriate means to cut down the speedsters on Hillside Boulevard. The police have met the problem through diligent patrolling, but there are not enough officers to do the job properly.

Signals, or at least stop signs, are needed to forcefully remind motorists that speeding through a residential district is like pointing a loaded gun at a child.

The city claims the Boulevard is an extension of a state highway, and therefore out of the jurisdiction of the city when it comes to placing signals.

However, there is nothing which prevents the city from requesting, demanding signals for the boulevard. This has been done, we understand, but the results have been negative.

At this point the citizens residing in the area must act. Alone they can do little, but as members of such a group as the Edgewood Terrace Civic Association much can be accomplished.

We have been informed that the Edgewood Association is no longer active, despite the good work it did in making improvements in that area. This is unfortunate, and we feel some definite step to reorganize the group should be made at once, if for no other reason than to insure some type of traffic safety.

It is such a simple thing to band together to improve the community but a difficult matter to bring back to life a pedestrian who some day may meet his death on that same hillside Boulevard.

SCHOOLS NEED CHANGE OF NAMES

Words in general, and names in particular, hold certain connotations which do much to either knit or divide a community.

This was forcefully brought to the attention of local residents this week by H. Z. Weibel, our new superintendent of schools. Speaking before a meeting of Westlake property owners, Weibel turned to the names of our schools.

He pointed out the majority of the buildings are named for districts, such as Garden Village, Colma, Westlake and Crocker. These names appear to have been arbitrarily chosen for easy geographic identification than for any esthetic or rational reason.

What has been the consequence of setting off a school by the name of the district in which it is located?

We feel, as Weibel indicated, that naming a structure for an area helps children to identify themselves, not with the city as a whole, but with a district. They, as their parents, grow to distinguish their school as the mark of particular economic and cultural standards.

This may be a small point, but in a day when unity is the saving factor of any society, everything to secure that condition should be employed.

Consequently, we call for a renaming of the schools, or at least reconsideration of the names for the schools still to be built.

As Weibel observed, most buildings are named after presidents, poets, statesmen and other leaders of civilization. We think, in the interest of better education and unity, this well might be applied to local schools.

However, let's not have another school named after Thomas Jefferson. As it is, Jefferson's name is used with the frequency of districts for appropriate identification. Presently we have the Jefferson Elementary School District, Jefferson High School, Jefferson School, an dthe Jefferson Annex.

That noble president has had enough of Daly City, and, besides, we can't help but feel the Republicans should get a "candidate" in here someplace.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

Volunteers to assist community services in Daly City are as scarce these days as tenderloin steaks in the family broiler.

At least that's the contention of Community Chest officials who are now seeking assistants.

Councilman Fred Bertetta, this year's fund drive chairman, reports a dire lack of interest in aiding the Community Chest.

The apathy is not surprising. Daly City residents are noteworthy for their negative attitude. However, when it comes to dipping into the benefits offered by such organizations as the Community Chest, these same recalcitrant ones are the first in line.

It is only through efforts of a few civic minded citizens that these fund drives are a success. However, they can't be expected to do it alone.

We hope, between now and the date of the Community Chest drive, enough people will "see the light" and come to the aid of their city.

Those wishing to help are asked to call Councilman Bertetta at PLaza 5-4356.

LET'S NOT FORGET CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Daly City may not be a prime target for an enemy air attack, but there is such a thing as bombardiers who miss their target by three to 10 miles.

All of which leads us to believe it is just possible some morning we may wake up to find an A bomb blowing the roofs off our homes.

The necessity for civilian defense is always with us, especially in a day when peace is about as distant as the possibility of Stalin fiddling hands with President Truman.

This need apparently has been overlooked by city officials. Although some action, confined for the most part to paper, has been taken to ready the city for possible disaster, more must be done.

We are not experts on the subject, but a state and national program has been established to aid cities of the size of Daly City. Local officials, we know, have gone so far to recognize the needs as outlined by these various bodies, but have gone not much farther than that.

While we realize officials are busy with other, possibly more pressing affairs, there is no excuse for the present condition of unpreparedness in Daly City.

When almost a year ago THE RECORD pressed for a good civilian defense program we were assured there was no reason for alarm and that everything was going well.

Frankly, that assurance isn't much insurance when the bombs begin to fall. What we need now is action, and fewer promises.

The Sacramento Scene

by H. C. MacArthur, C.N.S.

(CNS)—Story of the week having the most far-reaching effect on California's economy is announcement by the Division of Water Resources that it has advertised for hearing the five applications of the Bureau of Reclamation for Sacramento River water now being used for Central Valley projects.

The Bureau is in the unhappy position of owning the storage facilities and canal system for distribution of the excess waters of the Sacramento, now held behind Shasta Dam, and not having a clear title to the right to use the water, which has been merely "assigned" to the federal government by the state.

The hearings will concern a flood of protests the Division of Water Resources expects to receive against grating much of the excess water to the Bureau for transmission to the San Joaquin valley. Observers say developments may be a preliminary step toward the state eventually taking over the Central Valley project, as the state has an inherent and constitutional right to excess waters. In any event, it is expected the matter of adjudication will go to court before the permits are issued.

EXECUTIVE: Governor Warren started a whirlwind round of trips both in California and the east. He gave a television report in Los Angeles on his trip to Japan and visit to Southern California's 40th division; went to the Pomona fair and attended a celebration of the 141st anniversary of Mexican independence in Southern California, and left for the east where he will address the American Bar Association on crime problems and attend the national governor's conference in Tennessee. Sandwiched in between trips were a few days in his Sacramento office, where he appointed Clinton P. Duffy, San Quentin warden, and Fred Finsley, chief parole officer of the state, to the Adult authority, which the legislature increased to five members.

APPOINTMENTS: The governor has a large number of appointments to make as the result of legislation, chief of which will be a Director for the new Department of Fish and Game, created by legislative action. He will also replace Frank B. Durkee, now Director of Public Works, who will return to his civil service post. Durkee succeeded the late Charles H. Purcell as a fill-in appointment. Shortly after Purcell's retirement because of ill health, he died of heart failure, and his funeral was held in Sacramento last week. Warren also will appoint five members of his new crime commission.

REFERENDUM: A petition for a referendum against elimination of taxes on parochial schools has qualified in the office of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, and the people will vote on whether or not they will uphold action of the legislature and governor in eliminating taxes on this type of property. Signatures were obtained by professional petition circulator. The vote will be at the general election in November, 1952, unless a special state-wide election is called meanwhile, and the governor has no special election in mind at present.

Meanwhile, the parochial schools continue to pay taxes until the issue is settled by the people.

NEW LAWS: At midnight, September 22, 1,765 new laws go into effect, touching almost every phase of California's economy. The laws cost the taxpayers about $500 apiece, it was estimated from an $880,000 bill for the 1951 state legislature, which does not include the printing bill, yet to be calculated.

DAYLIGHT SAVING: California has until 9 a.m., September 30, to enjoy that extra hour of daylight. At that time, the state will return to Pacific Standard time for the winter, and will return to daylight saving time next April.

SOUTHERN CROSSING: Wheels have started moving for a southern crossing of San Francisco bay from Alameda to San Francisco, with Assemblyman Richard E. Dolwig's sub-committee scheduling meetings to work out plans for an Authority, and reports from federal civilian defense officials that some funds may be available to assist in building an earth-fill causeway across the bay have been received.

UNEMPLOYMENT: The State Chamber of Commerce has put its members on notice that a chance for return to lowered rates of unemployment on January 1, 1952, is possible, provided the fund reaches 7½ per cent of the previous year's taxable payroll. Business was urged by the chamber to give particular attention both to a stabilized employment program, and a re-hiring of old employees practice whenever possible, to prevent further drains on the fund. Meanwhile, payments of insurance remained about level, but are far below the amounts paid out at this time last year.

FOREST FIRES: Hot weather and low humidity, coupled with some dry winds, caused major outbreaks of fire in several parts of the state, on brush and thousands of acres of death and timber destroyed. De Witt Nelson, state forester, said the high hazard fire condition remains dangerous, and urged the public to co-operate in preventing fires.

CALIFORNIA STATE FAIR: Final report on attendance at the California State Fair this year indicated 762,029 persons passed through the gates during the eleven day show; gross receipts hit another record, jumping to more than $1,000,000 and W. C. Wright, fair board president, started the drums beating for a move to the new fair grounds on the freeway north of Sacramento. He was joined by Governor Warren, who said the new grounds should be utilized as soon as possible.

AGRICULTURE: California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service indicated a successful season for harvest of fruit and nut crops; also said range feed supplies are holding generally throughout the state; predicted an increase in the harvest of mustard seed.

HERE AND THERE: State Controller Thomas H.

Kuchel and staff have moved into their new offices in the Capitol annex; fish and game said studies are under way to eliminate killing of fish on the PG&E steam plant at Antioch, also announced completion of an extensive program of marking silver salmon; public health said polio cases continued to total more than any other infectious disease, with 142 cases reported during week; California cotton will total $1,800,000 500 pound gross weight bales this year; indications are for a harvest of 104,500 tons of raisin grapes; warnings to motorists driving in school zones issued by Clifford E. Peterson, state highway patrol commissioner, in view of reopening of school; Assemblyman Francis Lindsay, Loomis, secured legislative counsel opinion which says soil conservation districts can float revenue bonds to build multiple-purpose dams and reservoirs, with his upper American river development in mind; agriculture's quarantine stations reported 1,088,845 people entered California in August, along with 346,121 automobiles, 22,936 trucks, and 4,621 stages, about half being Californians returning to this state; California supervisors association scheduled a convention in Santa Cruz which will take up as one subject the matter of city-county taxes and services, a big issue in the 1951 legislature.

The Record welcomes any letter on any event of public, or private interest. These letters are published at no expense to the writer. From The Depths Of The Florida "Swamps" Navy Cadet Praises Local Fog

September 10, 1951

Dear Sir: I wish to thank you for making it possible for me to receive The Record.

The first 17 years of my life I spent in Daly City, so it is nice to see how the old home town is doing.

Unfortunately my last three years, prior to joining the navy, were spent in San Francisco; but as San Francisco is part of San Mateo County, I hope you will not hold it against me.

I believe it was my cousin, Arnold Panella, who gave you my name and address, and I think that was one of his better ideas. Way down here in the Florida swamps, where it's not too difficult to die of heat prostration, I really miss that Daly City fog... believe me, I do.

But I know I shouldn't kick... at least I'm state side, and I will be for the length of my training which will be another 13 months before I get my wings. I know quite a few boys from Daly City who have been, or who are over in Korea; and it's for the grace of God that I'm not with them.

So once again, I'd like to say thanks a million for The Record; it's really swell, and a lot of fun to read.

Respectfully yours,

Residents Thank Police Officers For Assisting Them In Emergency

Dear Sir:

We wish to take this means to publicly thank the two Daly City Police officers who so quickly and efficiently answered our emergency call during the early hours of Monday, September 10.

We don't know their names, but it was a privilege to have met two such capable, kind and thoughtful men. It is gratifying to know we have such officers on our police force whom we can depend on in distress.

After Many A Night On Korean Waters Sailor Decides For Daly City

September 7, 1951

USS Agerholm
Korea

Dear Sirs: I have been reading The Record for quite some time now, and I think that I should put in my two-bits worth, since everyone else has, on the possibility of changing the name of Daly City.

I have sat up on deck at night thinking about a good name for Daly City, and Fogville wasn't it. The only name that sounds right is Daly City, and I think it should keep its original name.

Yours truly,

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

(CNS)—Although it is slightly early to start bouncing the political ball with any degrees of accuracy, the national conventions next year should determine one thing, at least, and that is whether California, now second state in the nation in population, will come in to its own as a national political power, or whether it will continue as the No. 2 boy as far as influence and prestige are concerned.

For in the past, the eastern states and eastern politicians have done most of the dictating as far as presidential candidates go. And while California in its 101 years of statehood has progressed mightily in population, economics and social life, it so far apparently has not reached the age of maturity for its proper place in the national political sun.

Future The future, then, of California in the nation's grab-bag for presidential candidates, appears to be tied up with Governor Earl Warren, vice-presidential candidate in 1948. At two GOP conventions, 1944 and 1948, Republicans of California have sent their delegations to the national affair with a token vote for the governor's nomination for the top spot, a procedure which gave Warren the leadership of the delegation, and the authority to ballot as he and the other members of the delegation saw fit, after casting the initial vote for Warren.

With the passage of the years, California's governor has grown in political stature, and it is no secret among Capitol observers that he now is ready for serious competition for the nation's top political spot.

Warren, of course, has made public announcement as to his intentions in this respect. The unwritten rules of national politics apparently preclude an announcement from anyone to the effect that he is "seeking" the presidency. Yet there aren't any rules which prevent a politician from making himself available, and again, it's no secret that Warren would be "available" if drafted as the GOP candidate.

Appears It appears inevitable then, that the governor will be California's choice as far as the Republican party is concerned, and once again will head the party delegation to the national convention, where the people have little to say concerning the final selection.

Some concrete action may come from the GOP state central committee meeting which will be held November 16 and 17 in San Diego. It is reported the meeting is creating unusual interest as this might be the spot where the governor will reveal his plans for 1952.

And it's a foregone conclusion that when something concrete is tossed out, that Republicans in California will pitch in with all the vim and vigor characteristic of a young and fighting state to win the nomination for their favorite, and native son. For the patronage rolls in this state have grown along with the state itself.

Meanwhile, the governor goes about his business unperturbed, and if the nature of his business grows more and more toward national issues, it is, at least, an indication of which way the wind blows for California's place in the national picture.

Polio Cases Up In State

(CNS)—Once again, polio cases reported to the state department of public health totaled more than any infectious disease.

The department said that last week, 142 polio cases were reported, compared to 122 of mumps, 118 of measles, and 97 of chickenpox.

Counties reporting polio cases included:

Humboldt 5; Butte, 2; Glenn, 1; Alameda 7; Contra Costa, 1; Marin, 1; San Mateo 3; Solano 2; San Joaquin 3; Yolo, 1; Fresno, 3; Merced, 2; Riverside, 2; San Bernardino, 2; Los Angeles, 73 and Orange, 2.

OIL TYPE AIR CLEANER

Failure to clean and re-oil an oil type automobile air cleaner when it becomes filled with dust and other foreign matter will result in low gasoline mileage and hard starting, says the California State Automobile Association. The function of an air cleaner is to prevent foreign matter from being drawn into the engine through the air intake on the carburetor. The average engine consumes approximately 10,000 gallons of air for every gallon of gasoline used.

Parent Education Groups Discussed At Friday Meet Of District PTA

Workshop sessions and a cocoon drama illustrated the statement of purpose on parent education by Mrs. Robt. Bogen of Los Angeles, state chairman, to local chairmen of Seventeenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers last Friday, September 14.

Mrs. Edward J. Foley of Burlingame, district chairman, arranged the day-long program at the Coyote Point campus of San Mateo Junior college.

Mrs. Bogen, in discussing the pattern of parent education study groups, declared, "To act effectively we must consider varied educational, economic and social backgrounds, and be open to new ideas." Factors she stressed were interpretation, leadership, audio-visual aids, resource materials, and physical aspects for meetings.

High school students of San Leandro, accompanied by their director Mrs. Mary E. Lynch of Oakland, presented "High Pressure Area" which was issued by the American Theatre Wing in cooperation with the National Health Society.

Scripts for any of the role-playing drama series may be secured through Mrs. Clemens Freidell Jr. of San Mateo, district mental health chairman.

Church Conference Planned Sunday

An all church conference for the official board members, officers and parents of the Grace Presbyterian Church Sunday School will be held Friday, September 21.

Pastor, Dr. William Harberts said the meeting would begin at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

A representative team from headquarters will present films, and be in charge of the program.

This is also "bank night," to be followed by a social hour.

Meanwhile, this Sunday will be rally day at the Sunday school. New pupils are urged to attend, and former pupils to return for promotion.

Court St. Mary Notes 21 Years Of Growth

by Mrs. Arthur Heyden
Court St. Mary Pub. Chm.

Reminiscent of bygone days when the Court first came into being, members of Court St. Mary, Catholic Daughters of America of Daly City, celebrated their twenty-first birthday at a banquet held in the colorful Montclair Restaurant in San Francisco last Thursday evening.

What with some remaining charter officers present, who were called on to speak on the first installation, I pieced together the history and progress of Court St. Mary No. 1155.

Court St. Mary No. 1155 was founded by the late Mrs. Mary McGuire (who had the distinction of instituting the first Court of Catholic Daughters of America in the state of California) with the degree work put on by Court Golden Gate No. 913 of San Francisco.

Court St. Mary was the 43rd Court to join the ranks of this national organization of Catholic women in the state of California. Today there are 99 Courts throughout California, with a membership of close to 15,000.

Court St. Mary, with 35 charter members, was instituted Sunday, July 13, 1930. Prospective members received Holy Communion in a body at a Mass held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, followed by the initiation and installation ceremonies of officers and members, in the old Masonic Hall.

A supper was served to the 200 guests, with many notables present. Among them were: the late Monsignor J. J. Cullen, state chaplain for the Catholic Daughters of America Courts; the clergy of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church; state officer of the Catholic Daughters of America; Knights of Columbus of San Mateo county; and members from all Catholic Daughters of America Courts in the Bay Area.

Congratulations came from every Court in the state, wishing Court St. Mary every success for the future.

Mrs. Christine Michelson, a well known Daly City woman was the chairman of this gala reception.

Court St. Mary to date has had 15 grand regents, some serving two years. Mrs. Richard J. Ennis, present head of the Court, is now serving her second term in office.

Meetings were first held in one of the rooms of the old Perpetual Help School. They later moved to the old Eagles Hall and finally to the newly constructed Crocker Masonic Hall on 17 Hillcrest drive where they reside today with an ever increasing membership.

Remaining charter officers, honored on this occasion and tendered beautiful corsages were: Mrs. Helen Rode, first historian; Mrs. Celesta Davis, Fairfax, first treasurer; Mrs. Christine Michelson, trustee; Mrs. Alma Parmassino, trustee; Mrs. Elizabeth Wettstein, first organist; along with Mrs. Charlotte Ford, who named the Court.

Other guests graciously called on to speak, after hearing from the charter officers, were Mrs. Bernard O'Connell, district deputy to Court St. Mary, and Mrs. Milton C. Weckerle, state secretary, also a member of the Court.

The tables were beautifully decorated with favors in the Court's colors of purple and gold with a sumptuous tiered cake of 21 candles gracing the center table.

Decorations and details were taken care of by the ever gracious Mrs. Fred J. Wettstein, chairman of the evening.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

How many times have you said—or heard said—"Now say you're sorry, dear! Tell the little boy, you didn't mean to do it!" OR ELSE?

I have said it many times to my children after some fracas in the back yard, bedroom or living room, but over a period of years it has come to me that perhaps they are not sorry at all, which, of course, makes SAYING they're sorry a lie!

Now obviously, no parent wishes his child to be a confirmed liar and if they thought he was becoming one they would be seriously concerned, yet this particular facet of lying—"the forced apology"—is considered by many parents to be the beginning of good manners and a right and proper training for the child's entrance into adult living!

Most tall tales, lies and petty theft in children are the direct results of fear and insecurity and at this point let me insert the old saying "The child is father to the man"—just to point out the fact that children grow up and if they are to grow into really adult human beings, they need more during their growing years than a forcibly imposed parental authority!

Real, not man made, authority walks hand in hand with justice, fair play and a deep feeling of what makes human nature tick the way it does; it is firmness coupled with understanding. Real authority is what every child at first expects—then hopes for from his parents and teachers.

Whenever a parent or teacher forces a child to say or do something which, to him, is false or unreasonable—or more commonly, humiliating—his estimate of ALL adult authority drops a notch or two. "Next time," he may well say in his mind, "I'll know better than to expect an honest decision from them! But, next time I hit Johnny I'll just SAY I'm sorry and everything will be hunky-dory!"

Accidents happen, children have much to learn of give and take, but with love and understanding; a regard for RIGHT rather than Mrs. Jones' opinion—they will stand a fair chance of being people we parents can admire and trust long after they have left OUR charge!

Where Does Your Dollar Go?

"Where does your dollar go?"

A perplexing question at best, but as far as the San Mateo County Community Chest is concerned, the answer will be forthcoming on Wednesday night, September 26, at 8 p.m. in the Broadmoor Community Center, when the James L. Snell PTA commences its new year with Miss Mildred Erickson, executive secretary of the Council of Social Services for San Mateo County doing the answering.

A thorough discussion of Red Feather activities will be followed by a question period—there will be no solicitation of funds. Prospective members desiring to join may do so at this meeting, although the campaign in the school will not open for some time. Refreshments will be served following the regular business meeting, which will be conducted by Mrs. Hugh S. Falconer, President.

WOODROW WILSON PTA OFFICIALLY OPENS ANOTHER YEAR OF ACTIVITY

Registration day, September 7, marked the official opening of activities for the Woodrow Wilson PTA this year.

Members of the PTA were present to present teachers with corsages, while mothers registering new students were served coffee and cake. The children were content to munch on ice cream bars.

The first regular meeting of the PTA was held September 18, at which time Mrs. Randolph, fourth grade teacher, revised a program of Mexico that her class of last year had presented.

Highlight of the program was a film presented by Miss Rose Resnick and Miss Nina Brandt of the Recreation of the Blind, on a camp for blind children and how they are aided in adjusting themselves to life in a seeing world.

M. Resnick, who is sightless and very talented, played a piano solo. She, also, gave a commentary on the film, and answered questions put to her.

Mr. H. Z. Weibel, new superintendent of schools, gave an interesting talk on PTA groups, during which time he quoted a sentence: "You can have a good school without a PTA, but you have a better school with a PTA."

Mrs. Hahn, principal of the Woodrow Wilson School, then introduced the faculty, among which are five new teachers.

The program closed with refreshments served by Mrs. O. Simonsen, hospitality hostess, and her committee.

Virenos Return From Honolulu

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vireno, Sr., of 6196 Mission Street, returned home last Monday on the "Lurline" from Honolulu.

At the Bon Voyage Cocktail Party the engagement of their daughter Mabel to Mr. R. Cheda of Marin County was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Vireno are pioneer residents of Daly City and have another son, Andrew, and daughter, Esther, who teaches in the South San Francisco Schools.

MISS SMITH IS FETED AT SHOWER

Miss Alberta Smith, bride elect of Lee Stephens, was surprised with a miscellaneous shower given Saturday night by Mrs. Pina Sherwood at the Sherwood home at 269 Granada street.

The guest of honor received many useful and attractive gifts. Both she and her fiancé are graduates of Jefferson Union high school.

P. T. A. Plans Program For Year

With the new term starting, a special meeting was called by the General Pershing PTA president Mrs. Frank J. Prisco, Sept. 13, at 1080 Brunswick St., to discuss and plan programs for the coming year. Members who attended were: Mrs. A. W. Lauffenburger, Mrs. Roger Gilmore and Mrs. Joseph Arroyos.

In conjunction with the 1952 theme of the National Congress of Parent-Teacher, "Children still come first," each monthly meeting will have as its topic a timely presentation, stressing the importance of understanding children, informing parents and co-operation between the school and home. The executive board meeting will convene on Thursday evening September 27, at the home of Mrs. Frank J. Prisco, PTA president.

Lutheran Group To Meet Friday

The Men's Brotherhood will meet at the Lutheran Church of Our Savior, Garfield and Juniper Serra Boulevard, on Friday, September 31 at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Everett Pimentel will conduct the devotions, and the Rev. Robert G. Konzelman, pastor of the church, will speak on "Romance of Church Symbolism." All men of the community are cordially invited.

Sunday School and Bible Classes are conducted every Sunday morning at 9:45, and Divine Services are at 8:30 and 11:00 a.m.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By DIANE DALY

In a burst of activity, organizations and clubs in this vicinity, last week threw off their summer lethargy and emerged with re-activated fall programs and programs and projects reflecting an extensive agenda for the winter.

Names were the big news this week, with notable persons leading the field and lending their prestige and sincere effort to worthwhile endeavors.

RED FEATHER:

The Community Chest, whose campaign for funds is held every fall about this time, will be solidly backed by a first time Red Feather Committee for North County, headed by Fred Bertetta, which combines the efforts of the different districts and suburbs in this northern end of the county, and should facilitate a greater co-operative effort than ever before.

Mayor Jack Price of Colma has accepted over-all Campaign Chairmanship for the coming drive, with Mrs. Arthur Heyden, well known civic and social leader acting as over-all Residential Chairman. From Broadmoor, Mr. Tom Jenkins is an energetic member, and representing Garden Village, Mr. Ralph Damon will act in an executive capacity. Advance Gifts Chairman will be the stint of George Gaggero, who is also on the Board of the Visiting Nurses Association, newest addition to C. C.'s services. Motivating Westlake citizens into an all out effort is Mr. C. Becker, who has earned the respect and admiration of his neighbors for his wise and interested council within the Westlake Property Owners Assn. Other notables who hold posts include: Mrs. Leonard Oppenheim, Tom Laramee, Hilda Heagney, Jane Kieth, Elsa M. Garrison, and Dan Anderson. This year's well integrated program will need VOLUNTEERS however, and first call has gone out. Interested parties will kindly call PL. 5-3625.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSN.

With the children back in school once more, the local PTAs are also putting forth a superlative and enthusiastic program.

Marking the initial meeting of Crocker PTA on Sept. 11, was "Open House" which was held in the Library room of Crocker. Many were on hand to welcome Prexy Katherine Mullen, who presided, attired in a smart navy blue Polka-dotted afternoon dress. Piece de Resistance was the buffet table which was centered with sweet peas and hydrangea, and from which refreshments were served.

Acting as sponsors, the James Snell PTA were hostesses at the recent organizational meet of the Westlake PTA which was held at the new Westlake clubhouse, Sept. 17. County officials of PTA present for the event were Mrs. G. J. Sirex, Mrs. F. C. Tuska, Mrs. T. G. Evans and Mrs. E. C. Styskel, who were on hand to help launch the organization.

OLPH "Country Fair" To Be The Year's Outstanding Event

by Mrs. Isabelle Liberti

When any enterprise is for the welfare of a group of youngsters, all Daly City seems to turn out to make any affair an overwhelming success.

This has been proven again and again in connection with the annual carnival which is held by the parishioners of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church. Proceeds of this carnival go to maintain the beautiful parish school which has added so much to Daly City.

Besides being an impressive building, situated on one of the most scenic spots in the city, the school accommodates approximately 450 children—only lack of space keeps the enrollment at that level.

Large Debt
A huge debt was incurred at the time the school was built five years ago and each year the parishioners give unselfishly in an effort to make the Carnival a success. In this they have always been given every co-operation and entire population of Daly City. It is indeed heartwarming to see how the efforts of hard-working chairman and their assistants are appreciated.

This year a tremendous effort is being made to present a Carnival which will be outstanding in every way. The theme chosen is that of a "Country Fair," and if you have ever attended one, you already know what fun they can be.

New Booths
Thursday night a group of the men will begin to erect the booths and do all the necessary carpentering; plans are being made for most elaborate decorating—already some of the workers are planning what to wear.

A few of the booths, chairmen and committees have been decided upon with more yet to come.

O.L.P.H. Mothers' Club Members To Receive Communion This Sunday

by Mrs. Edna Cubic, Publicity Chairman

Communion Sunday for the Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help School will be a Mother and son event.

The will receive communion in a group at the 8 o'clock Mass, Sunday, September 23.

At the breakfast immediately following, the charming Mrs. John J. Ryan, past president of the National Council of Catholic Women of the Archdiocese of San Francisco, will be guest speaker. As well as being student counselor and head of the history department of Galileo High School, she is an authority on many types of legislation. Last year when she accompanied Archbishop Mitty's pilgrimage to Rome, she remained in Europe for several months. Mrs. Ryan, whose topic will be "Catholic Action" is presently the program chairman for the San Francisco County Council of the National Council of Catholic Women.

The Mothers' Club ushered in the new semester Friday evening, September 14, by welcoming the following new members: Mrs. Frances Irimin, Mrs. Clara Kelley, Mrs. Rita Ragni, Mrs. Geraldine Shaw, Mrs. Margaret Sturm, and Mrs. Antonine Tremaroli.

Held after the business meeting, the social hour was festive as refreshments were served at gayly decorated tables replete with novelty miniature blackboards and potted geraniums for centerpieces. The little matching nuptials further carried out the motif of "back to school." The room prize of the evening was won by the first and fourth grades.

Lecture Series Announced

"Building Healthy Personalities" is the title of a lecture and discussion series offered by the Adult Educational Division of San Francisco Public Schools and sponsored by Sheridan PTA.

Mrs. Frances Miller of the Marina Adult School of Education will be the speaker. The classes will be held on six consecutive Tuesdays, beginning September 25 at 8 p.m. at the Pilgrim Congregational Community Church, located at Randolph and Victoria Streets.

Various problems of family life will be covered by interesting films, lectures and discussions and it is hoped that both fathers and mothers will attend.

All those interested may contact Mrs. F. G. Ellison, Study Group Chairman for Sheridan PTA at Delaware 3-6238.

James L. Snell PTA Assists Westlake Unit

Although only one year old, the James L. Snell PTA is already becoming a "big sister" to a new unit—that of the Westlake School, now in the process of being formed.

At a pre-organizational meeting held for the purpose of nominating members of by-laws and nominating committees, Mrs. Hugh Falconer, President of the James L. Snell PTA Unit (Garden Village School) expressed the good wishes of the unit toward the unit of the soon-to-be-completed Westlake School.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. L. G. Evans, Past District President of the 17th District of the California Congress of the Parents and Teachers, and other distinguished guests from the 17th District included Mrs. G. J. Sirex, President, Mrs. F. C. Tuska, Director of Extension, and Mrs. E. C. Styskel, Financial Secretary.

Attending this meeting from the James L. Snell unit were Mrs. Hugh S. Falconer, President, Mrs. Larry Green, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Louis Manis, Treasurer, Mrs. Robert Shreve, Historian, and Mrs. Wm. H. Beck, Legislation Chairman.

An organizational meeting is planned for the new unit, and will be held October 4th at 8 p.m.

"must" at any Country Fair, will be staffed by Bob Crocker and Bob Lucier. Along with their products these two offer an engaging brand of personality and always draw a crowd as much for their side-splitting patter as for a side of bacon. With meat prices these days being what they are, that is saying something.

Helping Hand

Court St. Mary, Catholic Daughters of America, are always ready to lend a hand with any worthwhile project. Many of the members in this court are not parishioners, but always respond wholeheartedly when called upon by the Church or School. They will staff the Refreshment booth, as they have for so many years. Old-timers know that this means many delicious dishes will be offered, for the refreshment of guests and workers. Mrs. Valetta Ennis, who is Grand Regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, as well as being an active member of the Mothers' Club, will be chairlady.

The Country Fair will have several other booths which will be announced at a later date, at which time it is hoped that a complete list of the workers can be published.

Best Yet

From the slight hints and glimpses, it seems that the "Country Fair" is going to be just about the most elaborate affair of the season.

Don't forget the dates: October 19, 29 and 31.

The Place: Country Fair, Our Lady of Perpetual Help school auditorium and school grounds, 80 Wellington avenue.

Everyone is invited. Many will go home with arms full of gifts. All will have a wonderful time. "More Fun in '51!"

COME TO THE FAIR!

SAN MATEO COUNTY FLORA FIESTA

Seventeenth Annual Event Opens In San Mateo Friday, September 21

Everything is in readiness for the official opening at six o'clock tomorrow evening, September 21, of the seventeenth annual San Mateo County Flora Fiesta at the fairgrounds on 25th Avenue, San Mateo, a fiesta which will be replete with water effects, patio and garden ideas, a vast spread of flowers, tropical sounds, graceful dancing by Latin American and Polynesian artists and hundreds of other attractions.

This year's show will have everything for the family's entertainment, for the home owner with a problem of what to do with an undeveloped part of his lot and for the casual visitor. Flowers, of course, will be one of the first attractions, this being recognized now as the finest floral fiesta in California.

There will be 65,000 square feet of flowers, some of which arrived this morning, Thursday, by plane from Australia. Entering the Fiesta building the visitor will thrill at a huge waterfall cascading 1200 gallons per minute from the rafters and under which waterfall one may walk on a ramp overlooking a lake banked with orchids, ferns, tomato trees from Brazil and water lilies. There will be more orchids further along the ramp and there might even be sounds of tropical birds, crickets or frogs. There will be the stately dahlias, some 13 inches in diameter, and

The coffee tree is indigenous to Ethiopia.

Hudson's Bay trappers visited what is now Nevada around 1825.

Outdoor Exhibits

There will be something truly worth while in the outdoor exhibits where emphasis has been placed on outdoor living and weather-conditioned patios.

The revue will be Latin American entertainment by young people, some of whom have international reputations, including Lola Montes, a Spanish dancer who has appeared in many movies; Maldo who is generally recognized as one of the world's greatest magicians; Rene who is 22 and already is rated as the best of the puppeteers; and Juanito, a comedian just returned from a triumphant European tour, and who is being scouted by movies for a lead in a new picture.

Surprise

A surprise feature will be Hawaiian girls recently featured at the Palace Hotel, who will perform next to a Powell Street flower stand brought to the Fiesta from San Francisco.

These are a few of the many features of the 17th annual Fiesta. There will be the swish of the senorita skirts, the brisk step of the caballero who appears in costume for the Fiesta and who may be judged for loving cups presented by the Fair Association daily. And there will be community events for the duration of the Fiesta.

Directors of the Fair Association believe that the 1951 Fiesta will establish a new attendance record because of the all-around quality of the exhibits and of the entertainment.

Gates open at 6 p.m. tomorrow evening, Friday, and thereafter will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. through September 29th.

"Off The Record"

By Roy Hurlbert

Punchy Picks

Spring brings love and fall brings football and a one-way road to the nut house.

Tonight, tomorrow and for the next three months the gridders will pigskin all over the place. East, South, West, North.

Every writer, amateur or pro, enjoys this time on the sports calendar most, for it's time to haul the crystal ball out of mothballs.

Staying close to home, the West that is, yours truly will offer his picks for tonight and the football games to come.

We start our venture on one premise, pertaining exclusively to the Pacific Coast Conference. This is that California's Golden Bears will sweep this year with a perfect record. Everybody else thinks so, too. Around here at least.

If Don Heinrich hadn't been sidelined up north, we would have bet our last nickel on the Huskies to take the Bears, Rose Bowl and all.

Now we come to runnerup in the P.C.C. Hold onto your sombrero, and sit down Green South, because we figure Stanford will surprise with a second place effort behind Cal. . . also Rose Bowl. U.C.L.A. and the Heinechless Huskies are next in order. As for the rest, it's OSC and USC and USC pretty close. Oregon and Idaho can't finish too much higher than the Seals.

All this is news to nobody, except for our choice of Stanford to breathe on Cal's furry neck.

Independently speaking we rate 'em: 1. USF 2. Loyola 3. Santa Clara 4. C.O.P. 5. San Jose State. The last named is this scribe's alma mammy, so you see, prejudice doesn't enter the picture.

A word or two about the independents. USF's backfield is second to none in the nation. Football men concur on this thought. If the Dons "thin" line holds up, Kuharich should have a near-perfect season.

Loyola lost too many good men up front but still has the great Don Klosterman back to toss touchdowns. Don may not have enough help, though.

Santa Clara has a horrible schedule. They won't wind up over .500, losing more than half, but we think Dick Gallagher will field a very tough squad. Look out for Santa Clara as a spoiler.

Softball League

Tight Race Seen For League Lead As All Teams Evenly Matched For Play

by Harry Aronson

The second Daly City Recreation Department's Softball League got under way on Thursday, September 6, with four teams battling for the top spot.

The game played on diamond No. 2 was won by Club 21 which capitalized on superior hitting power to drub the Early American Paint Co. team 22 to 6. A total of 20 hits were collected by Club 21 with A. Chelone leading the parade by belting out four singles in five trips to the plate. G. Massoni, L. Massoni, G. Beraldo, J. Morgan and L. Drago cracked out homers for the winners.

Firemen Win

On diamond No. 1 the game between the peppy Firemen and the Mercury Plumbers ended in a win for the Firemen by the score of 8 to 7. Gianini was the top batter for the Firemen, collecting 2 for 3.

Henry DeLeon and Herb Frost lead the Plumbers in the hitting department with each player getting 2 hits in 3 times at bat.

Thursday, September 13, field No. 1 was the scene of a close and hectic battle matching Club 21 against the Colma Firemen. The final score was 8 to 7 in favor of Club 21 in spite of the fact that the Firemen tied the score in their first half of the sixth inning. The game was called on account of darkness and according to the rules the score reverted to the fifth inning, the last complete inning played.

Lights Needed

It is too bad that we have to play our games under these conditions, the only solution would be a lighted field where complete games would be possible, then the teams competing would have little cause for the "beefs" concerning the darkness rule which has created several heated arguments.

Windbreakers Top Santa Rosa In First Game

The South San Francisco Windbreakers outclassed a strong Santa Rosa team Sunday 12 to 0. It was the first game the Windbreakers played at home and also the first game of the NCAAL for them.

Aldo DeTomasi set the first touchdown up early in the second quarter by pacing the Windbreaker 68 yard drive with runs of 15 and 20 yards. Bill Calhoun packed the hide over standing up. The second score came at the end of 11 hard plays to gain 31 yards. DeTomasi again pacing the attack with Calhoun powering his way over from 4 yards out.

In the closing minutes of the game Santa Rosa displayed the offense they didn't have in the early part of the game by taking the kickoff after the touchdown and moving it in 12 plays 71 yards to the Windbreaker 6 yardline. The hard hitting forwardline of the Windbreakers and the final gun were the factors that kept the northbay team from scoring.

In two outings this year the Windbreakers are unscored on. Last week they shattered the undefeated streak of the Antioch Hornets 39 to 0.

The over one thousand fans enjoyed watching the game from new bleachers built by the Windbreakers. The members of the club and even players turned out in dozens last week to make sure of the completion.

Last year was the first time the Windbreakers came out of first place honors in the league. This year the competing talent in the league is much better than previous years. The Windbreakers are counting it with the best team it has fielded in the five years it has been organized. Having no real name players as other clubs, it is victorious through the fine teamwork showed on the field, the splendid coaching of Leo Ferko, and the will and spirit to win.

The Windbreakers operate from the Michigan single wing dazzling the defending players as well as the spectators while one of the fine backs saunters through for 15 or 20 yard gains.

Bear Backers Slate Meeting For September 20

Regular weekly meetings of the Peninsula Bear Backers will begin Thursday evening, September 20, Vic Binsacca, Jefferson High School faculty member and a Bear Backer, announced today.

The group, a University of California male alumni organization now in its fourth year, will meet at 8 p.m. each Thursday in the main dining room of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo. It will see complete game pictures of the previous Saturday's football contest, hear a specially written report by Coach Pappy Waldorf, and promote the athletic interests of the University of California.

All California men are invited to tonight's meeting which will feature a report on the prospects for the 1951 season, a movie entitled "Highlights of the 1950 season," and election of officers for the 1951-52 year.

Beauty Queens To Choose Rival

A beauty contest in which the beauties pick their own queen!

This latest development in queen contests resulting from the recent furor caused by the decision in the Mrs. America competition was revealed today in the announcement by Richard Knutzen and Fred Titus, co-chairmen of the Shark Derby queen contest to be held Sunday, September 23, at the San Mateo County Fair, that the Shark Derby beauties would vote for their own queen.

Knutzen and Titus stated, "Each beauty will cast one vote for anyone except herself. Even the panel of three judges will be named by the competitors from their own ranks."

"As long as the girls are happy," they added, "the San Mateo Lions Club and the Coyote Point Yacht Club, co-sponsors of the event, don't care whether the winner is tall, blonde or indifferent."

Inez Coykendall, a 5' 2" lovely from Belmont with measurements of 36½", 26" and 36½", became the first entrant in the contest after she had been advised of the new and startling rules.

"When I heard about the Mrs. America decision," she said, "I wasn't going to take part in any beauty contest. But now I'm glad to take part. This way of voting is certainly the best."

The winner of the Shark Derby queen contest will be awarded many merchandise prizes and will share the throne of King Neptune at the fifth annual running of the Coyote Point Shark Derby, only shark fishing competition in the United States, to be held Sunday, September 30, at San Mateo.

Wrestling Opens On Peninsula

Big time wrestling will make its first appearance on the Peninsula at the Fiesta building in San Mateo on October 18, it was officially announced today by James J. Kehoe, president of the San Mateo Boxing and Wrestling club.

This show will be followed two weeks later with a boxing card no being arranged and tentatively scheduling Alex Amador and "Indian" Wolf, to crowd pleasers at Winterland. One wrestling and one boxing show will be presented each month thereafter with top liners appearing in either sport.

Season sponsorship tickets have been going well, Kehoe said, beginning with the $1,000 block purchased by William P. Kyne when the Boxing and Wrestling club launched its program for the AMVETS rehabilitation fund.

The season sponsorship tickets are still available for the entire season's shows at the newly opened headquarters for the organization at 134 B street in San Mateo. Names of the sponsors will be released at a later date.

Fish Now Prove "Traffic" Victims

(CNS)—Not only people, but fish as well, are subject to traffic hazards.

The state division of fish and game in a recent report, said the new PG&E steam plant at Antioch, has created a problem of protecting fish taken in with water used in the plant.

Striped bass and other species, the report says, become trapped in the intake system, and if not removed, suffer injury and death on mechanical screens.

Staffs of the Bureau of Fish Conservation and Marine Fisheries, with co-operation of PG&E and Bechtel Corporation engineers, the report said, are studying the problem of modifying the screen installation so as to remove the fish uninjured.

DIANE SULLIVAN, 19 year old San Mateo lass, has been selected as the theme girl of this year's Peninsula Peace Officers' Widows and Orphans Fund Ball at Bay Meadows on Saturday evening, October 6th. Diane is 5' 7" and weighs 121 lbs. She is a ballet pupil and hopes some day to make a name for herself as a ballerina.

LIONS STILL ROAR IN CALIFORNIA

(CNS)—Lion hunting is still good in California, the state division of fish and game reported to Governor Earl Warren today.

During the past month, 14 mountain lions were bountied, eight of these being taken by private hunters.

In addition, the division said its predatory animal control hunters accounted for 303 coyotes, 154 bobcats, and 421 smaller predators.

It May Be Fun ... But It's Illegal To Use Bow and Arrow While Drunk

Many important laws affecting California hunters will go into effect September 22 as a result of recent Legislative action, warns the Division of Fish and Game.

Some of the new rulings to be added to the State's Fish and Game Code make it unlawful to:

Hunt with firearms or bow and arrow when intoxicated;

Carry a loaded rifle or shotgun in any vehicle travelling—or even standing—on any highway or public way;

Fire a weapon within 150 yards of any occupied house, barn, or other building, without express permission of the structure's owner or resident keeper;

Kill or wound any human, while hunting;

Abandon or fail to give aid to any person accidentally killed or injured in a hunting accident;

Spotlight—any game animal while carrying a firearm or weapon;

Damage or participate in damaging private property, including leaving gates open or bars down, or causing a real or potential danger to livestock.

By proclamation of the Governor, any area may be closed to hunting or fishing because of potential fire hazard, as determined by the State Forester.

Also effective September 22 is the lifting of the restriction on the sale of deer hides. Legally taken deer hides which have been held for 10 days after close of season may be sold, purchased, tanned or manufactured into articles for sale.

No firearms hunting deer tags will be issued the same year to a hunter who possesses an archery deer tag. Tags will be issued by hunting district, making it unlawful to use a two-deer tag in a one-deer district.

Golden Gators Play First Home Game Friday Night

San Francisco State's Golden Gators play their first home game this week, when they meet the San Diego State Aztecs at Cox Stadium, 19th and Holloway, at 8 p.m.

After having upset the Lewis and Clark Pioneers 40-34 last Saturday, the Gators again play the underdog role Friday night. The Aztecs are rated as one of the small college powers of the west coast.

The Aztec backfield features big speedy backs. Among the men expected to lead the 1951 San Diego team are: half "Skeet" Quinlan, who was for three years All-Marine at the San Diego Marine Corps. Recruit Depot; Half Art Preston, who received honorable mention on the Little All American role; Quarterback Jesse Thompson, who completed 50% of his passes last season.

State's attack will feature at full Ed Coats, who scored the first touchdown against Lewis and Clark and in addition made four conversions. At Halfbacks Al Endriss and John O'Shea. Endriss scored twice against the Pioneers. His 92 yard touchdown run brought every Portland spectator to his feet. O'Shea is a hard hitting veteran, who has proved highly valuable in the past. At Quarterback Sam DeVito, who led last year's squad to the Far Western Conference victory will direct the play.

The Gators co-captains will be half John O'Shea and end Dick Payne.

Hunting Season Opens Saturday

With a reported record-breaking kill of bucks during the first of two deer hunting seasons behind them, California hunters will set out at one-half hour before sunrise, Saturday, September 22, to bag their limit in the north coastal and inland areas and contribute to what may be the State's highest annual harvest of deer.

Incomplete summaries of deer tag returns compiled by the Division of Fish and Game show an early season harvest approximately 25 per cent greater than in 1950. With restrictions removed on the taking of forked-horn deer in northeastern California, it is indicated that the 1949 record harvest of 52,000 deer will be topped.

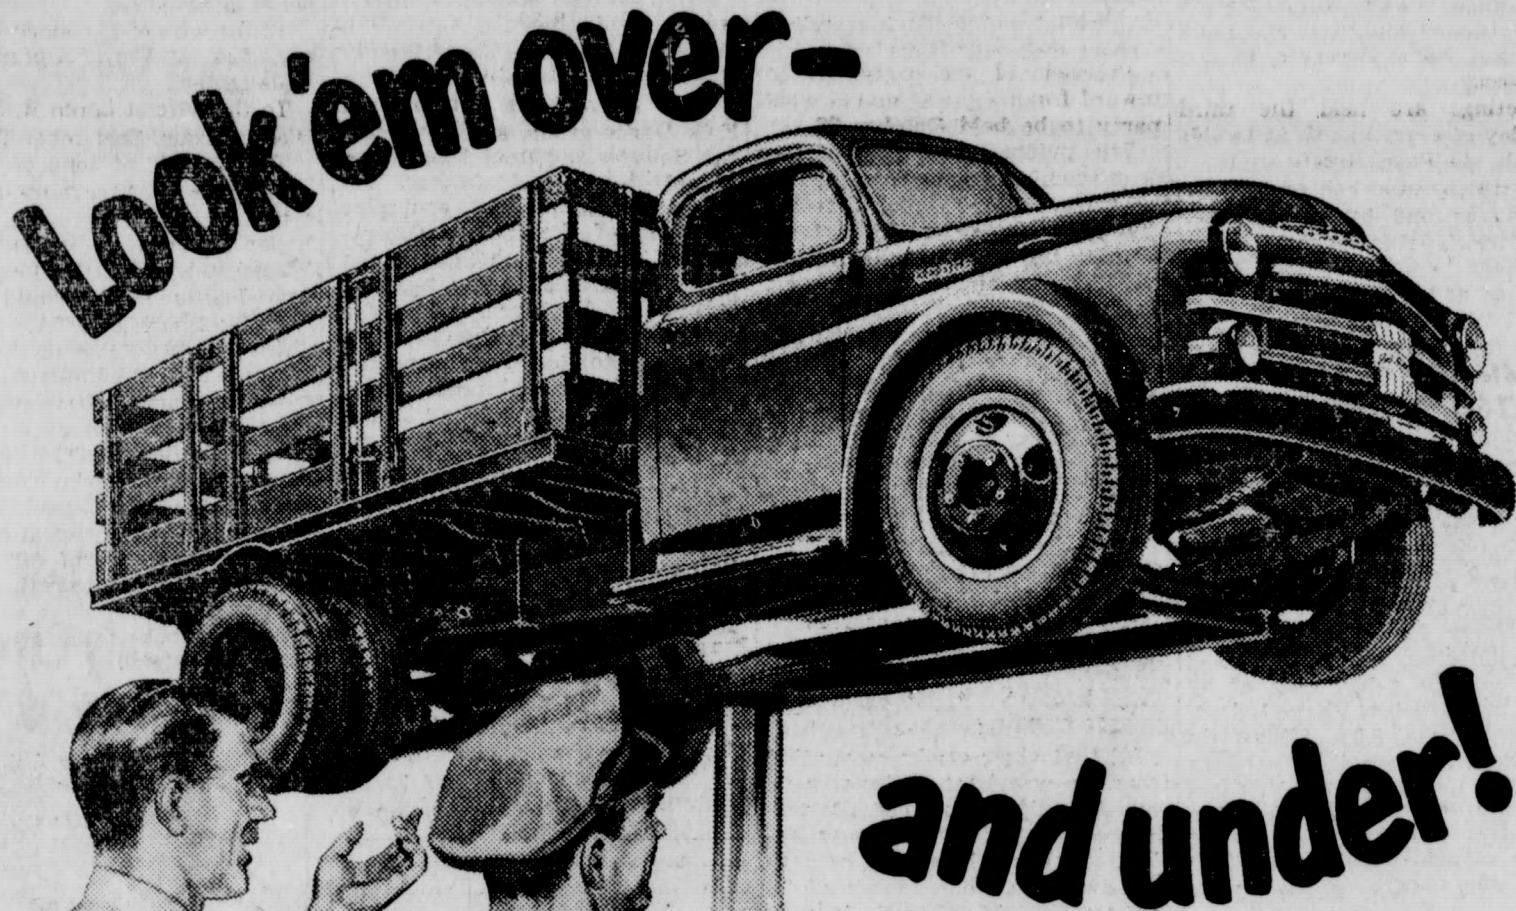

Game managers credit the improved 1951 hunting prospects to better weather conditions, overabundance of deer in some areas, a Saturday opening of seasons, and cooperation of landowners in opening additional hunting lands.

The second general hunting season in the north coastal and inland areas was set one week later than usual this year to minimize fire hazards and to permit a greater harvest of deer which remain late in inaccessible summer range areas.

Those of the State's 310,000 licensed deer hunters who didn't use both their tags during the early season may go after deer in the north coastal counties of Del Norte, Humboldt, Trinity, and westerly portions of Siskiyou, Shasta, and Tehama counties until one-half hour after sunset October 21. A bag limit of two bucks is in effect.

One buck may be taken in portions of 32 inland and Sierra counties, and San Diego County, during the 30-day season.

Hunters must carry with them a valid hunting license and deer tags.

Absent on a Carmel honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. Robey L. Blessing, Jr., whose marriage was an event of September 9 at the Calvary Methodist church, 19th and Judah streets, San Francisco.

For the ceremony, Mrs. Robey, the former Beverley June Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Stein, was a charming picture in a white satin gown fashioned princess style with a sweetheart neckline. Fingertips sleeves and a full skirt and a long train were other features of her beautiful attire.

Her white satin Juliet cap was trimmed with orange blossoms and designed with a fingertip length veil. Her bouquet was of white bouvardia and white gladioli with a detachable white orchid.

Miss Barbara Jean Stein attended her sister as maid of honor, being exquisitely dressed in an old Jack L. Coley was best man and ushers were John A. Fron and Caryl Oskea.

The bride's mother was lovely in a two piece charcoal gray faille dress. Her accessories were of green alligator, and her corsage was of tuberose begonias.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Joseph Gist.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Obrodovich, 424 Balboa street, San Francisco.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Blessing, Sr. The new Mrs. Robey is a graduate of Jefferson Union High school, following which she became employed as a civil service secretary.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Betsy Searingen, was attired in a gown designed of rose net over taffeta and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

A-Bomb Could Wreck Buildings In 12 Mile Area

If any one of California's target cities is struck with an atomic bomb of no greater power than that exploded over Hiroshima there will be structural damage within a radius of 12 square miles.

If, as many informed sources believe, a more powerful atomic bomb is used, buildings within a much larger area will be damaged.

These were the predictions voiced (Monday, September 10th) during the weekly state-wide broadcast produced by the California Office of Civil Defense.

Participating on the program—twenty-first in the series—were Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robertson, State Director of Civil Defense; Deputy Director Orville R. Caldwell, and Brig. Gen. Dwight F. Johns, chief, OCD Division of Engineer Services.

General Johns, charged with preparing plans to guide local Civil Defense organization engineer and rescue teams, outlined the four vital functions of his program.

"Disaster—whether the result of an earthquake, a fire which develops into a widespread conflagration or an atomic attack, would necessitate the performance of four vital functions by the Engineer Service," he explained. "There would be the problems of demolition and debris removal; there would be rescue operations. Damage survey would be a huge undertaking and, finally, there would be the problems of restoration construction."

Emphasizing the magnitude of the task facing OCD Engineer Services, Caldwell predicted the extent of damage resulting from a Hiroshima-type atomic bomb.

"An atomic bomb of no greater power than the one used at Hiroshima," he said, "could cause varying degrees of structural damage within a radius of about 12 square miles in any California target city—if used as an air burst. The detonation of larger atomic bombs, or the use of more than one bomb over a single city—such as San Francisco, San Diego, or Los Angeles—would result in much greater structural damage."

Russia. So much work to do, such hard work, such poor pay. Everyone hurrying, a faint scowl the national expression. And the old woman upon whom I called sharing two rooms with a boy and a young man, and exultingly showing me matches that lit when scratched, and a gas stove we would consider as dated about 1902.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Looking Abroad

WORDSWORTH wrote four lines, in his poem to the daffodils, that go like this: "For oft when on my couch I lie, in idle or in pensive mood, they flash upon that inward eye that is the bliss of solitude, and then my heart with rapture fills and dances with the daffodils."

That inward eye that is the bliss of solitude is a source of rare comfort to us all, when this year's Fourth of July brings us so much that is anxious, doubtful, depressed. We are living in a strange time of change and discomfort, and on all sides insoluble problems beset us. War, juvenile delinquency, broken homes, high taxes, high prices, high angry words in high places—there's just too much of it all. And it has become too easy and too common to get the report on healthy, wealthy, popular young persons: "Patsy's gone off her rocker again, you know, back in the psychopathic ward," or "Johnny's acting so queerly that they've sent him away."

And as these clouds lower, and it takes real faith and strength of spirit to disperse them, I like to think back across the easier years, and take out memories to review and reconsider.

China Visit

China, for example. Rural China, not Europeanized Shanghai and Peiping. Swarming country China, level rice fields between sluggish canals. Muddy dwellings framing muddy compounds, swarms of ivory-skinned men and women in mud-colored robes, jealously guarding the rice that shifts about in a little basket. To one respectable old man in China I gave a square of dark green felt.

It was hot summer weather, but when Amah next appeared she had felt sewed in neat squares over her quilted thick garments, on knees, elbows, and between her shoulders. Amah, working hard all her 60 years, had no room for her own, no bureau, no small privacy anywhere to store that treasure against the bitter winter. She put it where she could keep it. And she is typical of 300 million.

India. More swarming half-naked people, snatching bits of food from the curb, hanging about the hotel doors. Hungry, dirty, impoverished in the midst of fabulous wealth. India, where a hundred shouting and whining mendicants may be knocked down in the scramble for a few thrown pennies.

Russia. So much work to do, such hard work, such poor pay. Everyone hurrying, a faint scowl the national expression. And the old woman upon whom I called sharing two rooms with a boy and a young man, and exultingly showing me matches that lit when scratched, and a gas stove we would consider as dated about 1902.

Europe's People

Italy, with the children herding geese for all-day hours, and macaroni hanging in fringes over the dark doorways of basement hovels on Naples Hill. France, with everything for the tourist, and pinched courage and gaiety for the Paris throngs. France, where the very children look sharp and anxious. Germany, Austria, Poland, Belgium—no need to talk of them! And mighty England standing in long queues for not-too-appetizing food.

And then the inward eye comes back to another land, where the streets blaze with colored lights at night, and the motor cars nudge one another going to the ball games, and children troop to school in blazing socks showing under their jeans, and popcorn and chocolate bars are on every corner, and poverty reigns in thousands and thousands of homes, wide-spread between the great clean oceans.

And it comes to the figure of a mud-spattered, weary old soldier in a buff-and-blue greatcoat, it turns to Washington, fighting again, no less odds, enduring unspeakable hardships, believing in his dream of a free people in a free land, and bequeathing to us the reality of that dream.

And the figure of another Titan, gaunt, lonely, heartick, but holding us together; Lincoln, giving the vigils of long night hours that the nation might survive, and in the end giving his life for America.

Yes, it is good to get home in one's musings, good to get back under one's own flag, and realize for just what miracles the Fourth of July stands. There is no nation in the whole world that can give its people what we have, or one-half of it. There is no nation whose constitution permits the independence of thought and action.

Two Exhibits Set For Fair

San Mateo Junior College will have two exhibits at the County Fiesta. One is being arranged by the college agriculture department under the direction of Instructor George Mangis and will be made up of a large garden scene showing how plants and shrubs may be used in one's yard.

The other is being prepared by a faculty and student group headed by Instructor George Pomeroy. This booth will display the work of many of the departments and will be manned by students giving a live demonstration of school work.

This Friday at 8 o'clock the Junior College will start its 1951 football season on the Burlingame high school's lighted turf. College of Marin will be the opponent. As each team is playing its first game, no one knows anything about the other team's abilities. San Mateo, coached by head man Herb Hudson and assistants Lee Bissett and Dell Fishback, has had some 52 men out on the practice field, including five players who saw action in 1950.

Community Hall of the college adult center will present Dr. George Tays, political adviser for the American Occupation forces in Korea at the regular illustrated lecture program Monday evening, Sept. 24. Dr. Tays has just returned from Korea and will give a first hand report on conditions there. His pictures were taken during the past summer. The public is invited without charge to the Monday evening programs which start at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Baldwin Avenue campus in San Mateo.

Enrollment is progressing rapidly in the college adult center program of evening classes for men and women. Full information regarding the large program of sections may be had by phoning the college adult center office.

Over The Trees A Burglar Goes

Crocker Cleaners Cleaned Of $89.50

Exerting considerable physical effort to gain entrance into the Crocker Cleaners, 6215 Mission street, last Monday night, a thief robbed the establishment's cash register of $89.50, it was reported to Daly City police Tuesday by Sam Jacobsen, proprietor. However, he did not take 157 pennies, also in the cash register.

Leaving a trail that could be traced, it was discovered that the culprit had climbed a tree to the roof of the cleaners, forced open a skylight and then slid down a steam pipe to the floor. After taking the money, he left the same way he had entered.

Padlocks on the front and back doors of the building and heavy bars on the windows made entrance into the cleaners difficult.

Newspaper Week In California To Be Observed October 1 to 8

(CNS)—Governor Earl Warren today proclaimed October 1 to 8 as NEWSPAPER WEEK in California. In his proclamation, the governor said:

"In the light of recent international events, our cherished right of freedom of the press takes on added importance. For as we consider the ugly pattern of aggression by forces seeking to dominate the world, we find that the gagging of the press is invariably a prelude to the destruction of free government.

"We have reason to take pride

NATURE BOY

by Ridgely Cummings

This is by way of being a warm-up exercise for a piece that is going to make me and Nature Boy millionaires.

Nature Boy is Eden Ahbez, a slenderly built man with a curling red beard and long red hair, the one who wrote the song named after him back in 1948.

When I talked with him the other day Eden was wearing, in addition to his beard, a beret, a sport shirt, a pair of faded blue dungarees cut off rather jaggedly at his calves, revealing his mahogany tan legs, and a pair of moccasins.

A simple costume for a simple man. For Nature Boy is a simple, honest, idealistic fellow. He reminds me very much of Benny Bufano, the sculptor. He is a little taller than Benny and perhaps a little younger but both of them have a sort of transparent, naive genuineness that is rare these days and becoming more and more rare as our culture becomes more commercialized.

I told Eden that I had read about him in Time magazine when his song was all the rage and asked him who wrote the story. He said he never knew the man's name, nor did he know who wrote the two-page story about him in Life. He added that he wished Life hadn't left out so many of the things he said, that he would like to put over his philosophy of nature because he thought the world needed it.

That's when we were hit by the idea of becoming millionaires, or at least of selling a story to Esquire or Colliers and making a thousand bucks, which is almost as good as a million if you haven't got it. I asked Eden if he had plenty of photos of himself. He said yes, he had a collection dating back to when he was eight years old and also some of his wife, his three-year old boy and his mountain hideaway in Tujunga Canyon.

The pictures would sell the story, I told him, and I would write the story of his life and incorporate a statement of his philosophy on a fifty-fifty basis.

That would be fine, said Eden, except for three things. He is currently working on a song called "The Lord Has A Way With His Children" and has arranged for the 25-voice choir of a colored church to sing it for a master record. When it comes out he expects to be riding the crest again and then would be the time for a magazine article, he thought.

New Song

I told him national magazines are made up months in advance and it might well happen that our story would be released just as his new song was on the hit parade. So that took care of objection No. 1.

The second thing, Eden said, was that he had promised to let Darryl Zanuck film the story of his life. He was a weekend guest of Zanuck's several years ago and made the promise then. The producer wanted to go right ahead but Eden said his spirit told him it wasn't yet the right time. But when the spirit tells him the time has come, Zanuck gets first chance.

Our story wouldn't interfere with the movie, I told him, but on the contrary would give the studio the material for a scenario and might therefore mean money in the bank for us. That took care of No. 2.

On No. 3 I was stymied. Ahbez said he only acts when he feels at harmony with himself and he wasn't quite in harmony on this project. But if I would give him my phone number he would call me when the spirit impelled him. I scribbled the number on an envelope he was carrying and now I'm waiting for fortune to call.

How Much

Although that ended our business discussion it was not the end of our conversation. I asked Eden how much he made out of the song that made him famous.

He hesitated to name a figure but said he could tell me how much he didn't make. Somebody in New York sued him and kept all the profits tied up for several years. The New Yorker claimed he knew Eden and that the melody of "Nature Boy" was similar to one of his tunes. Eden said he never heard of the guy but that the law suit cost him $38,000. Then his agent, who had been a big help in putting the song over, got in the alert and vigorous press that has been built up in our Nation under our traditional freedom of thought and expression. We cannot, however, assume that it will always be that way. In our hemisphere, we have witnessed the death of La Prensa, one of the world's great newspapers. Elsewhere, we have seen the perils that beset the men and women of our free press in their pursuit of the truth. We have the example of William N. Oatis, now incarcerated behind the Iron Curtain in a mockery of justice by oppressors who know that the printing of the truth interferes with their aim to destroy individual rights and freedom.

"In view of these and other disturbing events in the world today, it is appropriate that the slogan 'Your Newspaper Lights the Way of Freedom' has been selected for the 12th annual observance of National Newspaper Week.

"In co-operation with this program of the free press of our Nation, I, Earl Warren, Governor of California, do hereby proclaim the period October 1 to 8, 1951, as NEWSPAPER WEEK in California. I urge that all the people of our state take the opportunity during this period to become more familiar with the services and facilities offered by their community newspapers and their contribution to the preservation of our way of life."

New Crime Board Duties Defined

(CNS)—Wide authority to study crime conditions of California is given the newly appointed Commission on Organized Crime, named today by Governor Earl Warren.

The members of the commission are General Leroy P. Hunt, San Francisco, retired four star Marine general; Harley E. Know, former mayor of San Diego; Dr. E. Wilson Lyon, president of Pomona College, Claremont; Edwin J. Owens, San Jose, dean of the University of Santa Clara Law school and Thomas M. Storke, publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press.

Warren Olney III has been appointed by the Department of Corrections as chief counsel for the commission. Olney served as chief counsel to the former commission.

The new commission by legislative action has $101,057 included in the state budget for its operation, and also was granted subpoena powers.

The executive order of the governor which accompanied the appointments is extensive, giving the commission the authority to look into any and every phase of organized crime, inquire into the effectiveness of the revenue laws of the state in removing the potentialities for profit from organized crime, restrict activities to the more acute conditions where there is greatest promise of results and co-operate with all state agencies, including the attorney general and the franchise tax board to carry out its directive.

It also has authority to hold hearings to accomplish its purposes.

25 per cent.

What Eden got out of the song was enough to pay off eight thousand dollars that he had borrowed at various times, a Hudson automobile and a goat.

He said the happiest moment of his life was when he was able to look up old friends who had been kind to him in the past and write out checks reimbursing them for their faith in him.

Goat Milk

The goat is out at his ranch now and provides milk for himself and his family. Eden is a vegetarian and a bug on "organic farming," which he explained to me in some detail though I didn't quite get it. As near as I could understand, he is opposed to the use of poisonous sprays and artificial fertilizer, favoring the use of peat moss and humus to enrich the ground, if anything beyond what nature provides is necessary.

Eden plays the piano and sings. Writing "Nature Boy" was no fluke. I listened with him to a record of "Sacramento," a song he wrote while watching his little son play in an irrigation ditch in central valley. Hoagy Carmichael was on the Decca version I heard and it had a natural sort of folk charm.

If Governor Warren should nab the Republican presidential nomination next year then "Sacramento" will be his theme song, Eden confided.

Well, I could write a lot more about my friend but I'd better save something for that magazine article that's going to put the pair of us on easy street. Until then, just address my mail to the Last National Bank.
